

Undertaking on use of Recorded Lectures

When a class is recorded and the Accommodations and Considerations Committee approves, a student can receive access to recordings to those classes. The instructor will provide notice to class participants, either on the syllabus, in class, or both.

I, _____, undertake to use the recording access permitted as a consideration solely for academic purposes related to the course for which it was created and that I will not reproduce or distribute these recordings in any form.

I understand that recording may be subject to technological interruptions or errors, and that access will expire two weeks after the date of the class meeting.

This undertaking applies to any recording access I receive during the 2022-2023 academic year.
